

---

NGAN DINH

---

Fulbright Economics Teaching Program
232/6 Vo Thi Sau, District 3, Ho Chi Minh City
Tel: +848-932-5103
ndinh@alumni.uchicago.edu

Born: July 26, 1980
Place of Birth: Hanoi, Vietnam
Gender: Female
This version: August 2008

---

CURRENT ACADEMIC POSITION

---

August 2008 - Lecturer, Master of Public Policy, Fulbright Economics Teaching Program
Vietnam Program, Harvard Kennedy School of Government
Courses: Macroeconomics: Theory and Policy Applications, Development Policy, Public Economics, Trade: Institutions and Impact

PAST ACADEMIC POSITION

2007 – 2008 Visiting Instructor, Department of Economics, Bates College, Lewiston, ME
Courses: Microeconomics, Macroeconomics, Social Economics, Topics in Financial Research

---

EDUCATION

---

2002 – 2004	M.A, Economics, University of Chicago	Chicago, IL
1998 – 2002	B.A, Economics and East Asian Studies (Japanese), Bates College Magna cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa, Honors in Economics	Lewiston, ME
Others	Kansai Gaidai (Fall 2001) Toorak College (Spring 1997)	Osaka, Japan Melbourne, Australia

HONORS AND AWARDS

University of Chicago, Graduate Scholarships and Fellowships	2002 – 2004
Bates College, Dean's List All Semesters	1998 – 2002
Bates College, International Scholarships, Trustee Endowment Fellowships	1998 – 2002
Bates College, Ruggles Economic Research Grant	2001
The College Key Awards for outstanding academic and extracurricular achievements	May 2002
Stangle Awards for the most outstanding honors economics thesis	May 2002
Ralph J. Charles Prize for the most outstanding economics major	May 2002

---

RESEARCH INTERESTS

---

Business and Government, Organizations and Firms, Labor Economics

PUBLICATION

"Differential Rewards to, and Contributions of, Education in Urban China's Segmented Labor Markets,"
(with M. Maurer-Fazio). Pacific Economic Review, October 2004, pp. 173-189.

WORK IN PROGRESS

"Child Care Workers' Wage and Turnover in the United States, Does College Degree Matter?" (with Rachel Connelly, Bowdoin College and Jean Kimmel, Western Michigan University).

"Labor Market Segmentation/Regional and Sectoral Wage Inequality in China, 1988-2003," (with Albert Park, Oxford University and Maggie Maurer-Fazio, Bates College).

---

NGAN DINH

---

ECONOMIC RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

---

- Summer 2003 “Potentially Risky Behavior in Response to Medical Breakthroughs”
Research Assistant for Prof. Sam Peltzman, University of Chicago
- Summer 2002 “Financial Liberalization in Developing Economies, the case of Vietnam”
Summer Research Intern, International Monetary Fund, Hanoi, Vietnam
- 2000-2002 Research Assistant, Bates College,
Labor Economics, China’s Labor Market, Returns to Human Capital

CONSULTING EXPERIENCE

---

- 2004 – 2007 Economic and Finance Litigation Consulting, Research Associate
Cornerstone Research, Boston, MA
- Summer 2003 Economic Consulting, Summer Intern
Huron Consulting Group, Chicago, IL
- Spring 2002 Social Investment Consulting, Intern
Community Wealth Venture, Washington, D.C.
- Summer 2001 IT Consulting, Intern
Japan Electronic Computer Co. Ltd., Tokyo, Japan

LANGUAGES AND COMPUTER SKILLS

---

Vietnamese (native), English (fluent), Japanese (declining), Chinese (beginning).
SAS, STATA (proficient), MATLAB (working knowledge), Visual Basic, Unix (very basic).

PERSONAL

I love my family. I like to cook. I enjoy teaching, training, and coaching. I write when I can.

Reference available upon request.